Old British Trenches Abandoned in

This Stronghold is Still Aflame and Its Fall in a Short Time is Probable

BRITISH OCCUPY VERMAND

Also Reach Edge of Etchey in The Continuation of Their Drive on
St. Quentin

(By United Press.)

With the British Armies in France, Sept. 9.—South of Gouzeaucourt the British advance guard attacked today. At noon the assault was going well. Gouzeaucourt is on the Hindenburg line southeast of Havrincourt wood.

The line of the old British trenches north of the Somme served for German rear guard fighting today. Built by the British when they settled down facing the Hindenburg line, these trenches served to stay but did stop the German steam roller last spring. It is likewise probable that the Germans will do more than hesitate in the defenses before falling back to their own original position.

At Gates of La Fere

Paris, Sept. 9.—The French are at the gates of La Fere. Cavalry patrols are close to the city. Fall of this stronghold of the Hindenburg line is probable. The city is still aflame.

French troops are now only four miles from St. Quentin.

The Germans are holding St. Gobain forest, one of the strongest defenses of Laon, only with great difficulty.

British Near St. Quentin

London, Sept. 9.—The British are attacking Gouzeaucourt, on the Hindenburg line, southeast of Havrincourt wood. British patrols have occupied Vermand, six miles northeast of St. Quentin. They have also reached the edge of Etchey.

Artillery fighting on the edge of the Cambrai road and at several other points was reported by Hing.

Yankees Bombard Height

With the American Army in France, Sept. 9.—American artillery has opened a heavy bombardment on Le Petite Montagne, a powerfully fortified height which rises 250 feet at the point where the German line meets the Aisne, and dips toward Rheims.

This height is the leading position of the enemy front in that position. American batteries, including 16-inch guns, are hurling hundreds of shells into the slope and onto the crest, ripping up wire, battering the trenches to ruin and generally making the mountainous stronghold most unhealthy for the Germans.

German batteries behind the Aisne replied, bombarding Fismes and the back areas, dropping high explosives over miles of country in their search for our gun positions.

Simultaneously the American artillery, with wonderful accuracy, is smashing the Aisne bridges behind the Germans who are still on the southern bank of the river. Five bridges have been torn up.

Before Hindenburg Line

London, Sept. 9.—The allies are standing before the Hindenburg line on virtually the center of the front from Cambrai to St. Gobain forest.

PERRY ONEAL IN ENGLAND

Arrives Safely on Other Side, Cablegram Today Announces

A cablegram received this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Lien Oneal, west of the city, announced the safe arrival of their son Capt. Perry Oneal in England.

Capt. Oneal was a member of the first officers training school at Fort Harrison and although he was sent to Camp Taylor to assume control of a company of infantrymen, following his commission, he was stationed at the Sherman camp at Chillicothe, O., for several weeks before he left for the east. The trip across was made in an unusually short length of time since letters from the east had been received from him ten days ago.

Cambrai and St. Quentin, their immediate and important objectives, are within striking distance. The British, at Villeneuve, are six miles from St. Quentin, and have captured Roisel and St. Emille. Along the line, north of St. Quentin, the advance of Haig's troops has carried them to their old defensive positions from which they were driven by the Germans last March.

In the south the French are in positions close to La Fere, a bastion on the flank of the almost impregnable St. Gobain forest. Unofficial and unconfirmed advices from Paris early today stated that the occupation of La Fere was a probability of the near future.

Berlin reports that the Germans are in their new defenses, indicating that the bulk of Von Ludendorff's forces are behind the Hindenburg line. Field Marshal Haig's statement today of heavy artillery fighting supports the theory that the German high command will attempt to make a stand on their old positions. Enemy rear guards are resisting with increasing strength and bitterness further allied approach to the German positions.

With the great retreat from the Picardy salient to the Hindenburg line practically complete, the battle situation offers three possibilities. Hun resistance may be sufficient to bring the allied advance in Picardy to a temporary halt. A pause on the front between Cambrai and La Fere would permit the foe to increase the strength of his line.

The second possibility is the breaking of the flanks of the Hindenburg defense by the British thrust toward Donai and Cambrai or the operations of General Magin against St. Gobain forest. Success of allied troops on either flank would make the Hindenburg front untenable, forcing the Germans to begin another phase of their retreat from northern France. Beyond the present positions, the next enemy line would be roughly along the Belgian frontier and the River Meuse.

A retirement to the border would be a long dangerous march, and Ludendorff can be expected to move backward again only under powerful pressure.

Thus far Marshal Foch has followed the policy of striking one sharp local blow after another, giving the enemy no rest, no opportunity to make an extended preparation for defense.

Marion B. Smith, son of Mrs. Emma Smith of this city has arrived in France according to word received here this morning. Private Smith, who was in training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for several months, was engaged in the capacity of scout for an ambulance corps.

TRESSPAS CASES NOLLIED

Affidavits Against 4 Boys For Taking
Traffic Posts Dismissed

Four boys who were arrested and fined a few weeks ago for taking traffic posts from the streets of Rushville, and appealed the cases to the circuit court, will not have to stand trial because the affidavits against them charging malicious trespass, have been nollied on the motion of Prosecutor Stevens.

The four boys accused in as many affidavits were Walter Stevens, Byron Hinchman, Wayne Daubenspeck and Clifford Stevens.

SECOND GASOLINELESS DAY

Clatter of Horses Hoofs on Brick Pavements Takes Place of
"Honks" of Machines

With the arrival of the second gasolineless Sunday in Rushville and the novelty of the "stay-at-home" program worn off, the initiative of the young blood of the city again was displayed in the appearances of horses and various models of buggies and carriages which were dragged from hidden corners of barns.

Score after score of horse-drawn "arrangements" made their appearance Sunday afternoon and evening on the brick streets, which went on incessantly, almost entirely supplanting the high powered motor cars whose plaintive "honks" were to a great extent wafted only from the interior of garages where the motorists spent the day overhauling their cars.

Although the statement made by Fuel Administrator Trabue a few days ago set forth at least a temporary permit for machines to be used by rural district residents for church attendance, it was most noticeable that scores of people who reside in the country, did not take advantage of the permission when they had other modes of travel and the trips to both the morning and evening church services were made behind bewildered old Dobbin, who for the time at least, has come into his own.

"Speed demons," however could easily be picked from the throngs of horse drawn vehicles which thronged the main part of the city last night and as challenges from one buggy were passed to the driver of another, horses were driven up and down Main street at break-neck speed and although the sparks flew from the horses hoofs, which were allowed to take the race with all the speed possible, the former motorists were no longer fearful of an approaching motorcycle and a in-the-name-of-the-law "hulk" command since the speed laws of the city do not apply to horses.

"Even if they do," argued the former motorists, "would not a motorcycle cop be dubbed a 'slacker' for burning up gas"—and with this assurance of safety the race continued.

AIM IS TO KEEP DOWN TAX RATES

All Taxing Bodies in County Are Trying to Lessen Levies for Next Year if Possible

RATES WILL BE KNOWN SOON

Not All of Money Appropriated by Council Saturday Will be Spent
During 1919

Reduction of five cents in the county tax for next year, together with the fact that the city tax has not been changed, means that the tax rate in Rushville city may be lower than it was last year, but the exact rate either in Rushville or in any township in the county will not be known until it is computed in the auditor's office, which will be done in a short time.

Holding the tax rate down, decreasing it if possible, but at any rate not advancing it, has been the aim of all taxing bodies in the county. This is due to the war, because every effort has been made to curtail public improvement, mainly because of transportation difficulties. A letter from the State Council of Defense, received at the auditor's office recently, made this same point. It was especially requested by the defense body that no tax rates be advanced, and that as many as possible be lessened.

If they had been guided by their own judgment irrespective of any outside influence, the county commissioners would probably have raised the gravel road repair levy two cents, but they left it at fourteen cents because of the popular demand to keep down the tax rates.

While the appropriation of the county council Saturday amounted to $66,956, it should be understood that not this much money will be spent in meeting the county's expenses next year. The appropriation is based solely on estimates, which are always made large enough to meet possible unexpected expenses, and whatever remains in each of the funds at the end of the year reverts back to the county treasury.

The appropriations was for the following purposes:

Clerk's office expense	$3,410
Auditor's office expense	4,465
Treasurer's office expense	3,790
Recorder's office expense	1,740
Sheriff's office expense	3,930

Washington, Sept. 9.—Senate inquiry into the needs for the gasolineless Sunday order of the fuel administration was foreshadowed today by passage of a resolution introduced by Sen. Lodge. The resolution directed the fuel administration to give the senate the total daily production and consumption of gasoline and data on the present surplus and how fast a surplus is being created.

PHONE CHARGES ARE INCREASED

Five Dollars is Price Fixed For Installation of New Telephones
After Sept. 1

IT IS FOR REVENUE PURPOSES

Expense to be Borne by People Who Use Telephones in One Location For Only Short Time

The Rushville Co-Operative telephone company has announced that a charge of five dollars will be connected with the installation of telephones for new subscribers as well as for the person moving into a house where there is already a telephone, as the result of an order from Postmaster General Burleson which became effective Sept. 1.

Local officials stated today that the order was made so that there might be an increase of revenues from the telephone companies without resorting to increase in the rate schedule. This people who have redecorated the interior of their homes thus necessitating a change in the present location of their telephone, are decidedly out of luck, for they will have to pay for labor and material in making the change. There has always been a charge of $1 for changing a phone.

The construction placed on the new ruling by George Davis, manager of the telephone company, is that any one moving from one house to another will be compelled to pay the five dollar fee whether or not they have had a telephone in the house they vacated. New subscribers after September 1 must also pay the five dollar fee in contrast with the former fee of one dollar.

Through this order, instead of raising the rates in general, an expense now borne by the permanent subscriber—the one whose telephone remains in one location for a long period of time—is transferred and placed where it belongs, upon the subscriber who is responsible for the expense.

The installation charges are to be general through the country. Where the rates are $2 a month or less, five dollars installation will be charged and where the rate is more than two dollars but which does not exceed ten dollars, the fee is $10. Where the rate is more than four dollars a month, $15 will be charged.

The "readiness-to-serve," as the new measure has been named, argues that the subscriber who retains his service but a short period, does not pay for the expense of establishing the service after making a reasonable allowance for the expense of furnishing the service when the connection has been established.

On the other hand, the subscriber who retains service for a considerable time must bear the expense of his own service connection and also the expense of the service connection for the subscriber in one location for only a short period.

The Hnn is getting ready for the annual conference which will be held at Columbus Ind. Sept. 18. The meeting will be addressed by Bishop J. J. Walker, superintendent of the Methodist church in this county. Arrangements will also be made at the meeting for the annual conference of the Methodist church in this county.

Junior High School Makes Up For Loss in Senior High School
—Parochial School Same

The down town district of the city was buzzing with excitement and an unusual amount of traffic at least an hour earlier than usual this morning as early traction cars and various other traveling devices brought students from all parts of the township and county for the opening day of school.

Nine hundred and forty-six students were enrolled in the various schools of the city this morning; 845 in the public schools and 92 in the parochial school. The enrollment in the grades at St. Mary's Catholic school is up to the standard and although the public school enrollment is slightly below the number enrolled for the 1917-18 term, school officials expect to make the deficiency before the end of the week, since there is always a number of students who make their appearance at intervals during the first week.

The public school enrollment, tabulated this morning, shows the following enumeration of students in the following schools and departments: Havens school, 156; Graham Annex, 170; Jackson, 215; Washington, 40; junior high school, 120 and high school 153.

Although the senior high school enrollment has fallen off a small percent, that of the junior department has a good increase, which more than offsets the loss. One of the most noticeable occurrences of the opening day is the large number of junior and senior high school students from other schools through the county who have come to this city to complete their work. Already the number of students from other high schools has reached fifteen and before the week has elapsed the number will doubtlessly have increased.

All of the teachers in both the grades and high school departments reported for the opening of the term work and the opening day was given over to the settling of conflicts and a general lining up of the students preparatory for an immediate beginning of the program tomorrow.

A. M. Taylor assumed charge of the high school work, taking the place made vacant by S. F. Stewart, who acted in the capacity of high school principal for the past two years. Mr. Taylor has been affiliated with school work in Rush county for a number of years.

"Hazing" of freshmen, which has produced an unlimited amount of amusement for the upper classmen during past years, was forbidden today by high school officials.

Emphatically Asserts Worn Out, Lagging Men Can Quickly Become Vigorous and Full of Ambition

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Don't blame the man who is perpetually tired; his blood needs more red corpuscles and his brain and nerves are craving for food.

Given the right kind of medicine, any tired-out, inactive, lagging fellow can quickly be made into a real live, energetic and even ambitious man.

So says a student of the nervous system who advises all men and women who feel worn out and who find it hard to get up ambition enough to take a regular job to get a package of Bio-feron at any drugist.

This is the new discovery that pharmacists are recommending because it is not expensive and speedily puts vigor and ambition into people who despair of ever amounting to anything in life.

People whose nerves have been wrecked by too rapid living, too much tobacco or alcohol, have regained their old-time confidence and energy in less than two weeks.

No matter from what cause your nerves went back on you; no matter how run down, nervous or tired out you are, get an original package of Bio-feron at once. Take two tablets after each meal and one before bedtime—seven a day for seven days—then one after each meal till all are gone.

Then if you still lack ambition; if your nerves are not steady and you haven't the energy that red-blooded, keen-minded men possess, your package of Bio-feron will be gladly returned, chase money will be gladly returned.

Notes to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feron. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycerophosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Oleoresin Capsicum; Kola.

AMERICANS ARE SPECIAL RESERVE FIGHTING FINISH EMERGENCY RATION

Corporal Jerome Caron Says Germans Are Being Driven To The Wall By Allied Troops

HEAVEN, HELL OR PEACE SOON

Was Actively Engaged In Triumphant Battle of Marne—Hints at War Horrors

That the American troops are fighting with a determination which they mean to result in a rapid finish to the slaughter of the west front battles, is indicated in a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Caron of this city from their son Jerome, who as commander of an automatic rifle squad, was at the front from Decoration Day until August 13.

"We are driving them to the wall now and it is heaven, hell or peace by Christmas", declared the enthusiastic young warrior in the opening of an interesting account of the Marne battle in which he had been an active participant.

The fact that the Marne river, which has become famous throughout the world, is a stream no larger than Flatrock, was the declaration made by Corporal Caron, who stated that when the victorious American troops came to the banks of the stream, they could scarcely believe their eyes as they expected to find a river at least the size of the Ohio.

That he has known the horrors of war in the true sense of the word was hinted at in his statement that he hopes the struggle will soon be ended and that those men who are now being drafted will not be called upon to witness the sights which were common during the battle of the Marne.

The belts worn by captured and dead Germans contain the inscription "Got Mit Uns" but according to Caron the wearers are either out of luck or are beginning to realize that the German military party is not in such close consultation with God as they had led their army to believe since each American advance is met by the Germans throwing everything available at the approaching multitudes and then—fleeing or surrendering.

Quartermaster Corps Of The United States Army Works Out Hard Tack Menu For Troops

BUILDS RESERVE RATION

Wheat, Meat, And Sugar Makes Up So Called "Lunch Between Shots" For Our Boys.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Quartermaster Corps has worked out a special reserve emergency ration for the army consisting of hard bread, corn beef, corn beef hash, roast beef, salmon, sardines, soluble coffee, sugar and salt, to be packed in camouflaged galvanized iron tins and hermetically sealed against gas as well as moisture.

This announcement carries two important messages for the American people. It touches the necessity for saving certain foods and it also emphasizes the necessity for building up a national reserve ration.

Wheat, meat and sugar make up most of the menu of this "lunch between shots" for our boys. That is the reason civilians are asked to eat war bread, to save the heavier cuts of beef and to make our national allotment of sugar go round.

The abundant American harvests have brought rifts in the food cloud, it is true. But now is the time for a national reserve ration to make impossible any such dire conditions as faced the Allies early last spring. Remember those words of Lord Rhonda, when he heard our wheat supplies had been eaten up: "The war is over, we are beaten."

America did her part then and she must do her part now by preparing against any possible repetition of that call of distress.

THREE SAW BARS AND ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Prisoners Held at Marion on Charge of Theft and Larceny Use Clothing For Ladder

SAID TO HAVE ROBBED A STORE

Marion, Ind., Sept. 9.—Floyd Pyles, Kenneth Ham and Fred Stairs, held at the county jail on charges of theft and larceny, escaped yesterday morning by sawing the bars of their cell and then letting themselves to the ground from an attic window by a rope made of bed clothing.

After breaking jail they are believed to have robbed the Marion Hardware Company of revolvers and knives. The police say they stole the automobile of Ollie Cox and when it broke down, stole a truck from Charles Thomas. With this they are believed to have driven to Hartford City. The truck was found abandoned there. The police say the men stole another motor car here.

Salting Down Vegetables

"Salting" is an easy way to keep your vegetables. Here is the method as sent out from the United States Food Administration.

Beans

Use only fresh, tender beans of green or wax-pod varieties. Snap off the ends, wash the beans and pack them in an earthenware jar with alternate layers of salt, using one part salt to ten parts beans by weight. Weight the beans down, and two days later add enough ten-percent salt solution (about 17 ounces salt to 1 gallon water) to fill the jar. When removed from the solution the beans should be firm, although slightly darkened in color.

Beans may also be preserved in a salt-and-sugar solution as follows: Prepare selected, fresh beans as described in the preceding paragraph and pack them in containers between alternate layers of salt and sugar, one part salt and one part sugar to seven parts beans by weight. The liquid produced by action of the salt and the sugar on the beans should cover them in three days after they are packed. Beans preserved in this way retain their original color much better than those preserved with salt alone, but the flavor is considered by some to be less agreeable.

Beets

Select medium-sized smooth roots, wash them, and pack them in a large earthenware crock or jar. Cover them with a ten-per-cent salt solution (about 13 oz. salt to 1 gallon water) in which one-twentieth of the water has been replaced by vinegar (about three-fourths cup vinegar to one gallon water), weight the beets down, and store the crock in a cellar where the temperature is from 45 degrees to 60 degrees F. When the beets are removed from the solution they should have the natural red color and be firm and of good cooking quality when freshened. Salting beets is not practical if a cool moist cellar where roots will keep without wilting is available.

Green Tomatoes

Choose well-developed green tomatoes, wash them, pack them in a container, cover them with a ten-per-cent brine place a layer of chard leaves on the top and weight the tomatoes down under the brine. Green tomatoes similarly prepared and packed in salt and vinegar solution the same as that used for peppers are good for salads and relishes.

Corn in Husks

Select well-filled ears of sweet corn, and remove the loose outer husks and silks. Pack the ears between alternate layers of salt (one pound salt to seven pounds of corn) in a crock; and cover and weight them securely. Several days after packing them, add enough ten-per-cent brine to fill the jar completely. Corn cut from the cob requires but little more labor, salting each ear from the cob is not recommended except as an experiment.

Scaling Of Salted Vegetables

Cottonseed oil or melted paraffin poured over the surface of the brine to form a layer sufficiently thick to make a seal will prevent the growth of molds and aid in checking rapid evaporation of the liquid. The surface of the brine should not be covered however until all bubbling has ceased, which may be a week after the vegetables are packed. The container should be stored in a cool place and examined once or twice a week for several weeks.

Directions For Using

Salted vegetables should in general be well rinsed in cold water then removed from the brine and then soaked in three or four times their measure of cold water to draw out the excess salt. The time necessary for soaking varies with the kind of vegetable. If the water is changed occasionally less time will be required for soaking. They should then be drained, rinsed well, put on to cook in cold water, and brought slowly to the boiling point, after which they should be cooked until they are tender, the time required being practically the same as for fresh vegetables.

Beans: Soak salted beans for two to three hours, and cook them until they are tender, the time required depending on the condition of the beans when packed. Season them by cooking with bacon or salt pork and serve them as fresh beans or chill them and use them in salad.

Beets: Before using salted beets, soak them in cold water for two hours, changing the water once or twice if necessary to remove the salt. Soaking for a longer time is likely to cause loss of color. Cook the beets until they are tender, peel them, and serve them as buttered or pickled beets or use them in salads.

ASKS SAFE CONDUCT FOR SOVIET DIPLOMATS

Foreign Minister Tchiterin Proposes an Exchange With Great Britain

ASKS GUARANTEE OF POWERS

Amsterdam, Sept. 9.—The soviet government of Russia is willing to prepare for the exchange of diplomats with Great Britain, if the neutral powers will undertake to guarantee that the Bolshevik representatives at London receive a safe conduct home. Foreign Minister Tchiterin forwarded to the Vossische Zeitung by the Petrograd telegraph agency outlines the conditions under which the soviet government will act.

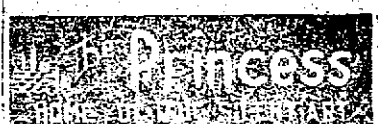

"After discovery of the course of action of the French and British diplomats, whose activities were directed against the soviet power, the government of the soviet republic found itself obliged to isolate various agents of the powers named. Nevertheless the government, as before, is willing to prepare for the exchange of diplomats if the neutral powers will undertake to guarantee that M. Litvinoff and all Russian citizens receive a safe conduct; that Litvinoff's and his collaborators' baggage be permitted to pass without examination and that no further difficulties be put in the way of his collaborators.

"Those conditions must, together with free exit from London and passage across Scandinavia, be guaranteed by Holland, Norway and Sweden. M. Litvinoff is being notified by telegraph and on receipt of his answer confirming his departure, R. H. Lockhart, acting British consul-general, and three accompanying him, will then be handed over to the protection of the Dutch representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Moorman and children of Dayton, O., were the week-end guests of relatives here.

You can't tell much about how good a nation is by the mind, but a War Savings Certificate well filled is a good index of patriotism.

Doubly Proven

Rushville Readers Can no Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Rushville citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Sexton St., says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times each night on account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often the secretions were scanty and they caused pain in passage. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up, the pains left and my kidneys again acted regularly."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Levi said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills for they have given me a permanent cure."

The Voice Of The Rising Sun.

The chorus of praise drawn from our allies by the gallantry of American troops in France sounds almost like the concerted finale at an opera. Among the paucity of appreciation we hear full-throated tribute from a vocalist whose tones are a little different from the rest. It is the voice of our old friend, the Mikado.

He has a style of his own, has Yoshi. Many of the most eminent in European strategy and statecraft have handed it to us on a plate. We get it in a huddle from the Euphuist of the Isles.

The tributes of statesmen and generals—French, English and Italian—have often been triumphs of literary grace. But for polished verbiage give us the Mikado, or some other cultivated Nipponese. At throwing the verbal confetti they are the fair-haired boys.

Even more engaging is the note of sincerity that we observe in the royal message. The foreign policy of Japan has often seemed something of a problem, and the attitude of the Island Empire toward its allies has not always been easy to define, but in his latest utterances the Mikado has unreservedly committed himself. It is well that the military weight of America is being rightly estimated in Tokyo. The praise of Japanese war-lords is the praise of experts. It is better to have them with us than against us, and their exact striking power is always an unknown quantity. How Japan stands on submarines, on aeroplanes, on tanks, on machine guns, is a baffling riddle and we can depend on her to keep the riddle unread.

It is not long since Nippon was regarded as America's greatest danger, and the time that we have taken in raising and equipping an army proves that we were anything but secure. Japan now realizes the value of our friendship when she sees that our fighting strength is more than a mere potentiality. If the proof of it—in national preparedness—had been shown to Germany two years ago, we would probably have never been obliged to go to war at all.

They Involved No Sacrifice
Don't look for the following advertisement in any of the Rushville store windows, but it was displayed in a larger town than this, though the mental stature which dictated it can hardly rank among the giants: "You cannot serve in the army," it ran. "But you can all look military. Our suits and overcoats are all cut close to the military pattern, and inspire in the wearer a feeling of patriotic devotion."

Put more briefly the advertisement might run: "If you can't be a hero, be an organ grinder's monkey." The charge that flag waving is often made a substitute for patriotism is not always made unjustly. Our parades, our salutes to the flag, the act of standing during the national anthem, the applause in theaters when patriotic sentiments are uttered—all these are patriotic gestures, but they involve no sacrifice.

Lincoln the Lawyer

Every one knows that Abraham Lincoln practiced law at the outset, but naturally he is remembered as a statesman and is practically always quoted as such, his accessible speeches being concerned with political controversy or public affairs. In this country one rarely if ever hears a citation from Lincoln the lawyer, yet such a citation was heard recently in the High Court of Justice in England, Sir Thomas Evans, President Judge, interrupting an argument of the attorney general to say: "I see I have here a note from President Lincoln's 'lost speech.' President Lincoln was not only an American President; he was also a lawyer. He stated: 'It is, I believe, a principle of law that when one party to a contract violates it so grossly as to destroy the object for which it is made, the other party may rescind it.'"

It is recalled that this utterance was made by Lincoln in 1856 in the course of an argument which as been called the "Lost Speech" in consequence of the fact that the reporters present were so moved in the speaker's eloquence that they forgot to take notes, the only brief record made being that of a young lawyer. Lincoln the lawyer is said to have revealed the qualifications of a good judge and doubtless he would have become one if he had not gone into politics. Certainly this reference by a British Judge to a passage in a speech delivered over sixty years ago is a strikingly complimentary recognition of Lincoln's ability as a lawyer.

Survivors of the British tanker Morio, torpedoed near Cape Hatteras by a German submarine, were obliged to make their way to safety through a sea of burning oil. The German idea of pouring oil upon the troubled waters is as abhorrent to common humanity as the rest of their ideas.

One would naturally expect the greater optimism from fresh and unwearyed American, yet Premier Clemenceau predicts victory by the end of this year while General March more cautiously places the triumphant issue at some indefinite period of 1919.

It is said that German officers, taken prisoner on the battlefield, express the opinion that "Germany can not win the war, but at the same time she cannot be beaten." Uncle Sam is fully prepared to see about that.

Let us give all praise and honor to the true Americans of German name and descent who fought bravely and well in our ranks at Fismes.

If you want most entertaining and delightful reading, keep in touch with the reports of the investigation of aircraft scandals.

America has two favorite sons. One is Jackie and one is Sammie, and they are mighty promising young men.

MAJOR JONES OVERSEAS

Over 700 carmen stations have been established by the American Red Cross on the railway lines of this country.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

Senator Watson's Letter
(Kokomo Tribune)

Senators and representatives have been deluged with letters from parents of boys of 18, 19 and 20, protesting against including these minors in the draft law just enacted.

Senator James E. Watson, of this state, has replied to many such letters, and one of his letters on the subject is published. It was written to W. E. Ogden, of Jeffersonville, and states the Senator's position in a sympathetic and dignified manner. It expresses a fine appreciation of the situation and will find immediate response in every loyal heart. Senator Watson's letter follows, in part:

I quite agree with you that there are reasons why boys from eighteen to twenty-one should not be taken into the army, and especially sent to France. The administration demanded this measure on the theory that we could not secure enough soldiers by any other plan to win the war. War always means sacrifice, and yet the more unitedly and the more courageously and the more powerfully we fight this war the sooner we will obtain peace and the better it will be for all.

My boy of twenty-three and my boy of twenty-one are in the army, and I feel quite sure that my anxiety is just as great as if they had gone to eighteen or nineteen, and yet I could not have them remain out of the army under any conditions. The war department, charged with the responsibility for the conduct of this conflict, unanimously decided this was the only way in which to raise an adequate army and, therefore, I supported the policy. Had I consulted my heart or any sentiment I should not have done so, but that I could not do in this emergency.

I believe that by placing an army of 4,000,000 men, properly drilled and equipped on the battle front of France, by the middle of next June, we shall win this war next year. That after all, is far more merciful to everybody concerned, than to put only half enough men over there, and have to drag along two or three years, and finally call on the boys as a last necessity.

I am not unmindful of the reasons that impel you, nor am I dead to the sentiment that stirs your heart, for I assure you I have felt the same myself but, nevertheless, I could not consistently do otherwise than support the administration proposition, for we must win, and winning means sacrifice.

Barrage

Our Thoughtless Dollars
By ALICE LOVETT LEWIS

No, we are not a selfish folk: We give at call of need, We pour our willing millions out Great starving lands to feed. But oh, we are a thoughtless folk! Our daily ways we go, Forgetful that 'tis each one's part To war against the foe.

There in the mud of Picardy Our Sammies stand today, To halt the blood-crazed Boche's hordes And end the Kaiser's sway. While here at home how merrily Our thoughtless dollars dance What might they mean of strength and cheer To Sammies there in France.

Let's cut out foolish hats and "cats," Give up the taxi ride, Save food, and garden for our health, Walk more, and curb our pride. The patriot wears a uniform. When last year's suit he dons And with those thoughtless dollars saved Buys stamps to stifle the Hun.

GERMANS LAY WASTE TOWNS IN RETREATING
With the French Armies in the Field, Sept. 7—Acting under orders, the retreating Germans are demolishing every thing. All villages that the French occupy have been destroyed completely. Even the cellars were dynamited. Huge bonfires were found blazing in the streets. All buildings were blown up with mines.

GHETTO SODA BOY RIDES CZAR AUTO

Former New York Boy Who Drove Sodas on East Side Plays in Bolshevik Affairs

WANTS TO RETURN TO AMERICA

Says He Will Doubtless Have To Hock Machine Of Former Czar To Do So

By JOSEPH SHAPNEL

New York, Sept. 7—He was Bolshevik commissary and his name was Goldstein.

Fate played a grim joke on Nicholas Romanoff when it deprived him of his job and substituted in his place innumerable little Czars named Goldstein or something like it. Apparently fate had in mind some of those Jewish pogroms of which Nick was such a devoted patron. Be it as it may, the aforementioned Goldstein was one of Lenin's chief lieutenants and a real power in Petrograd. His main job was to rule it high-handedly over the entire Petrograd press, and many a poor editor went to jail or suffered heavy fine at the word of this guardian of the Bolshevik censorship.

I learned about Goldstein when I first arrived in Petrograd. I was told he was a terrible individual and in addition to his job of watching all local editors also kept an eye on the dispatches of foreign correspondents.

At last my chance came. I had the good fortune of gazing upon his face. It was sternness itself. He wore a warm Russian "tjorkurka," high boots and tall, fur soldier's hat. Danton, Robespierre, Marat—how insignificant they were in comparison with Goldstein. He came rushing down the steps of Smolny, portfolio in hand, at breakneck speed toward an elaborately furnished automobile, flanked on both sides by heavy guns and red guards standing almost at attention. I came up closer. He looked at me. He offered me his hand. I recognized him at once. It was my old friend Goldstein, who used to draw soda at a soda fountain in New York's East Side.

"Step in," he said, pointing to the machine. "I am going to the foreign office and can drop you at your hotel."

On the road he told me all about himself.

"Kerensky and Chernoff are after me," he said proudly. "They vowed to get me first if they ever have the chance." I noticed that his East Side English was still good.

"By the way," he added. "This machine used to be the Czar's own." There was a smile of satisfaction on his face. "Shades of Ivan the Terrible! Goldstein riding in the Czar's machine. I could hardly keep from laughing, and had quite a job to control the muscles of my face until we reached my hotel. Goldstein was still talking. He was finishing his fifth speech on the social revolution. "And say," he asked, as I was bidding him good bye, "how can a feller get back to America?" "Hock the Czar's machine," I answered.

WEATHER FOR WEEK

Washington, Sept. 9.—There is a slight prospect of showers Monday night in the Ohio valley, otherwise fair; nearly normal temperatures.

For Bronchitis

A Coal Miner Thinks There is No Remedy Like Vinol

Belleville, Ind.—"I am a coal miner, I doctored for months for a chronic case of bronchitis with a terrible cough, sore chest, throat and lungs, so I could not work. I could get no relief until I tried Vinol. It stopped my cough and built up my strength and I feel better in every way."—Andrew J. Gray.

It is the healing, tissue building properties of fresh cods livers aided by the strengthening blood building elements of tonic iron contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in overcoming chronic cough, colds, and bronchitis. F. B. Johnson & Co., and druggists everywhere.—(Adv.)

A wedding of interest to Rushville people was solemnized Saturday afternoon with Miss Juanita Massey of Connersville and Arthur Fry of this city were married. The ceremony was read at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Massey, west of Connersville, which was artistically decorated for the affair in a profusion of fall flowers. The ceremony room was in white and an attractive arrangement of greenery. The bride was attired in a lovely frock of white silk net and messaline, fashioned with pearl ornaments, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The guests included only the members of the immediate families and a few friends, and following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fry left on a short wedding trip, after which they will come to this city for residence.

A wedding of interest to local people was solemnized at Hattiesburg, Miss., Saturday evening when Miss Mary Bookwalter, daughter of Charles A. Bookwalter of Indianapolis, and Lieut. David Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jennings of Newcastle, were married. The bride, who is one of the popular members of the Indianapolis younger society set, is well known in this city where she has visited on various occasions, and Lieut. Jennings, who is the son of one of Newcastle's wealthiest and most prominent men, also enjoys a wide circle of Rushville friends. Lt. Jennings has been stationed at the Hattiesburg camp since last summer.

Honoring Miss Katherine Wyatt, who leaves tomorrow for school in the east, her aunt, Mrs. Earl Moore, entertained a few guests last evening with a prettily appointed dinner party. Covers were laid for eight.

The members of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. Alvin Moor, assisted by Mrs. Robert L. Tompkins and Mrs. J. F. Miller.

Invitations have been issued for a one o'clock luncheon next Saturday at the beautiful country home of Miss Thorne Amos, honoring her house guest, Mrs. Owen Murrell of Indianapolis.

The members of the Women's Relief Corps will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Red Cross rooms to sew. All members are urged to come and take an active part in the work.

The members of Mrs. Bennett's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Hinkle in West Fifth street.

The members of the Rebekah Crochet club will have a pitch-in supper tomorrow evening at the city park. The guests will include the members and their families.

The members of the Missionary society of the Christian church at Sexton, will hold their meeting tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the church.

The members of the Pastor's Aid society of the Christian church, will have their regular meeting in the church parlors, Tuesday at 2:30.

WANTED—EVERY HOOSIER IN A U. S. FOOD CLUB

(By C. V. Stalsby, Assistant to Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Federal Food Administrator for Indiana.)

One of the unique features of Indiana's war activities is the organization of U. S. Food Clubs by the Indiana Division of the U. S. Food Administration. Through these clubs the Food Administration will be able to emphasize more clearly the vital relationship between food and war. Every home in the state will be enrolled when the work is finished. Nothing less than a determination to render the greatest possible contribution to the nation's war needs would have prompted such a gigantic task. The Food Administration for Indiana, however, shares the true Hoosier belief in thoroughness and knows that Indiana will point with pride to the loyalty with which her citizens fought the great food battle.

The work of organizing the United States Food Clubs began last spring and so far has resulted in the formation of about fifteen hundred clubs. This means that the work is about one-third done. The beginning of such a movement is naturally slow as it means the development of an entirely new idea. The Food Clubs have secured a footing of some sort in all but four counties. The way has been prepared. From now on the Food Administration expects more rapid progress in finishing up the actual work of organization. When the clubs are formed their usefulness will continue for some years after the war is over.

Plans are under way now for a great Food Club drive to complete the organization of the clubs by the end of September. It is advisable that this work be done before the next Liberty Loan drive commences. The county and township presidents of U. S. Food Clubs are endeavoring to complete the organizations in their respective territories by the prescribed date. When the work is finished Indiana will have a gigantic machine which will guarantee the highest degree of co-operation between the Hoosier citizens and Uncle Sam in safeguarding our food supplies for the sake of those who are endeavoring to stamp out forever the Prussian menace.

Every resident of Indiana should be interested in the U. S. Food Clubs, and ready to help. They can contribute to the success of this war program by getting in touch with their county or township president and preparing the way for a new club. All information regarding the clubs and the names of the leaders in the various communities may be secured by writing to the Food Club Division, U. S. Food Administration for Indiana, Indianapolis.

A lot of Americans are corned nowadays and in better shape physically than ever before. Incidentally, also, your War Savings Certificates are being well filled up.

School Day Needfuls

35 LOST WHEN U-BOAT ATTACKS TRANSPORT

Members of Crew Killed by Explosion of Torpedo in Engine Room of Mount Vernon

SEN. J. HAM LEWIS ABOARD

Washington, Sept. 9.—Thirty-five members of the crew of the American army transport Mount Vernon, formerly the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie, were killed by the explosion of a torpedo which struck the vessel last Thursday when she was 200 miles from the French coast, homeward bound. The passengers included Senator Lewis of Illinois, who was among those safely landed after the transport returned to a French port under her own steam.

Vice Admiral Sims reported to the Navy Department that the torpedo struck the transport on the starboard side, flooding one of the engine rooms, but he did not state the extent of the damage. Naval officers assumed that since the vessel was able to reach port under her own power, she was not damaged badly.

The men killed were firemen, engineers and water tenders and probably were on duty in the flooded fire room. The list of dead includes the name of one Hoosier, F. B. Hoffman of Newberry, Ind.

pendel upon which side mustered most quickly and adequately its reserves—but he didn't figure on raw materials.

When the war is over, the side with the reserves—gold, food, coal, iron, steel, cotton, wool, and clothing—will be the power to determine the peace and happiness of the world, officials here declare.

The United States government is now taking steps to acquire that reserve. Raw materials may be pooled after the war, as now, to insure against another outbreak of Hohenzollernism, if the great war fails to drive that blood monarch from the throne.

An international priorities board will determine what nations shall receive first benefits of these raw materials. It will take care that the weak and helpless country first is allowed to revive its strength, that it may not be suddenly overwhelmed while convalescent, by a nation whose military strength has survived the war and whose greed for expansion has not been tempered.

The foundation for this board could be the international organization already developing to direct distribution of pooled allied war supplies for fighting forces. The outcome of the war will determine whether Germany is a party to the board.

There is a movement afoot to establish an international reserve board to maintain financial stability through the period of reaction that inevitably will follow the war. This organization would operate to maintain a balance of gold among nations after the war, even as the federal reserve board now maintains a balance of credit and currency in the United States.

Through these 2 great international instrumentalities as much as through an armed league of nations, trade treaties could be maintained openly, secret pacts could not well survive, and no nation could hoard war supplies and build up a predominating militarism without full knowledge and consent of its sister nations. Many authorities believe peace would be rendered absolutely lasting through maintenance of this machinery.

AUSTRIAN SAILOR TELLS OF SINKING

Graphic Account Of New Form Of Naval Battle Which Begun Since Italy Entered War

WAS TOLD BY A SURVIVOR

Hungarian Newspapers Containing the Account of Sinking of Austrian Cruiser Are Received

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, Aug. 16. (By Mail.)—Hungarian papers have just reached Italy by way of Switzerland containing an interview with one of the survivors of the Austrian cruiser Santo Stefano, sunk by an Italian motorboat under the command of Comander Rizzo.

The interview contains graphic details of this new form of naval combat which has been developed exclusively by the Italians since the beginning of the war. The sea-going motorboats with which the Italian navy is now harassing the Austrian fleet are similar to the thousands of motorboats to be found at every sea and lake resort in America. In only one respect do they differ, and that is in the two torpedo tubes at the sides, from which deadly torpedoes glide out into the water.

Combats between these little boats and the huge Austrian warships resemble to a certain degree a submarine and warship encounter, except that the motorboat commanders, unable to save themselves by submerging, take a thousand times more chances, meeting the foe in open combat and counting on the smallness of their craft and their speed and cleverness in maneuvering.

This is the way the novel combat in which the Santo Stefano went down before the audacity of Comander Rizzo and his motorboat looked to the Hungarian sailor aboard the doomed Austrian cruiser:

"At four o'clock in the afternoon we received orders to prepare for sailing. We left Pola (the Austrian naval base) at 10 in the evening. Toward 3:30 in the morning we discovered that an Italian motorboat was only a short distance from us, and a moment afterwards there were two terrific detonations.

"The first torpedo penetrated into our munitions magazine, but did not explode. The second passed through the hole made by the first and penetrated into the engine room.

"Immediately all electric lights went out. Wireless apparatus ceased to work, and even the pumps were put out of commission, so that we were obliged to work the pumps by hand to keep the water down. In order to lighten the ship we threw overboard all our heavy munitions.

"After two hours of terrific work we were forced to recognize that there was no hope. Toward 6 in the morning the bridge gave way and the captain, who had been standing on it, was plunged into the sea, but succeeded in regaining the ship by swimming.

"Our signals no longer worked, and finally the captain fired three revolver shots as a signal for the entire crew to stand by and line up on deck. Some fifty sailors who were working in the bottom of the ship failed to hear the signal and remained below. With them was Lieut. Bovis.

"After the usual ceremony the captain gave us final absolution. Just at the moment that the battleship began to go down we threw ourselves into the sea, and after three quarters of an hour were picked up by torpedo boats that were

CASUALTY LIST HAS NAMES OF 835 MEN

Thirty-Seven Hoosiers Appear in Overseas Reports Made Public Yesterday and Today

NONE IS KILLED IN ACTION

Washington, Sept. 9.—In the casualty lists which were made public yesterday and today, the names of 37 Hoosiers appear, two of whom were dead of disease and the remainder in the wounded and missing lists.

The combined list contains the names of 835 Americans and the Indians who were among the casualties are as follows: dead of disease, George Hinecker, Upland, and Henry Hall of Mooresville, Ind.

Wounded severely: Cecil Butler, Dugger; William Cissel, Montgomery; Raymond Cook, Montezuma; Lee Hinds, Ft. Wayne; Stanislaw Finek, South Bend; Clyde Moore, Letts; Walter Schlatter, Ft. Wayne; Glen Wagoner, Richmond; William Whitlock, Bedford; Nelson Wright, Laporte; August Hamm, Rosedale; John Johnston, Bedford; Charles Rosinsk, Indiana Harbor; Joseph Vogel, Jasper; Kenneth Elliott, Sheridan; Huxley Butler, Indianapolis; Charles Bloomquist, Lake Village; Arthur Kabelin, Laporte; James Pickett, Ft. Wayne; George Sheets, New Albany; Paul Bollman, Ft. Wayne.

Missing in action: Russell Danvit, Princeton; Joseph Allen, Washington; Russell Booth, Selma; Edward Deneke, Elberfeld; Bernhard Melein, Danville; Elmer Walker, Michigan City; William Otis Weaver, Solsberry; Richard Wingate, Lyons; Herbert Steinfield, Laporte; Steve Szitas, Chicago; Virgin Carrol, Indianapolis; Bruce Harmon, Muncie; Theodore Kulers, Bloomington.

Total army casualties to date number 27,173, and the total number of marine casualties is given as 3,026.

BUILDINGS AT OLD FAIR GROUNDS SOLD

Bring Approximately $2,700 At Public Auction, Grandstand Selling For $1,005.

LARGER THAN ANTICIPATED

The buildings and other personal property at the old fair grounds were sold at public auction by the county commissioners Saturday afternoon for approximately $2,700. The proceeds from the sale were much larger than anticipated. The exact total will not be known until the pipe which was sold by the foot, is measured.

The largest sum paid, any single building was $1,005, the amount which the grandstand brought under the hammer. It was sold in two parts, the west half going to Clarence Mason for $555 and the east half to James K. Macy for $450. The dining hall brought $225 and other buildings, proportionate amounts.

The fair grounds were recently bought by the county as a receiver's sale after agitation for a county hospital had been started. To what use the grounds will be put has never been determined.

There were also picked up the bodies of several of the sailors who were drowned in the bottom of the ship, and these were interred with military honors at Pola.

Fenway Park Shortly Before Game
Good Example of Sparsely Settled Territory

(By United Press.)

Fenway Park, Boston, Sept. 9.—Back on their home lots with the games now standing 2 to 1 in their favor, the Red Sox appeared with the Chicago Cubs in the fourth game of the world series here today and Fenway park shortly before game time was a good example of sparsely settled territory.

The bleachers in the American league park comprised half the total seating capacity. One section had none in it and three other sections were lightly loaded.

The park will hold about 32,000 persons. The weather was threatening.

The batteries were: Boston—Ruth and Agnew; Chicago—Tyler and Killifer.

First Inning

Chicago—Flack singled to right. Hollocher lined to Scott. Flack was caught off first. Agnew to Melnis. Mann fouled out to Melnis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston—Hooper flied to Flack. Shean doubled to left. Strunk fanned. Whiteman flied to Flack. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning

Chicago—Baskert out. Merkle out. popped to Melnis. Deal singled to left. Killifer out. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Boston—Melnis flied to Hollocher. Ruth ut. hit to Merkle. Scott out. Deal to Merkle. no runs, no hits, no errors.

AN INJUNCTION IS ISSUED

Prevents Third Street Contractor
From Going on With Work

A temporary injunction against George T. Miller of Lebanon, who has the contract to build Third street, and his foreman, Roy Evans, was granted by Judge Sparks in circuit court Saturday afternoon, to prevent them from tearing up Third street to Julian street preparatory to paving the street. A further hearing of the case has been set for October 1. The suit for an injunction was brought by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company, which showed in its petition that it would be impossible for the company to get the rails which are required in the plans and specifications.

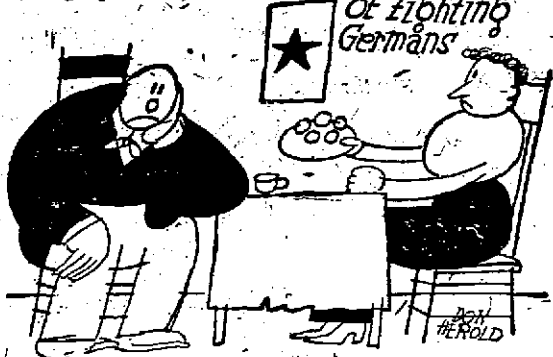

Americans may have been a little slow in getting acquainted with the War Savings Stamps, but they certainly do appreciate them now. Are you getting yours?

ONE-MINUTE FOOD TALKS

By Don Herold

I'm tired of eating
substitutes

Well then let's
Send for Henry.
He's probably tired
of fighting
Germans

DO NOT STOP SAVING FOOD.

There aren't any food "drives." The war on the western front is fought in "drives." The Liberty Loan is a succession of "drives." There are Red Cross "drives," and all kinds of "drives." War is largely a matter of "drives." Vigorous campaigns; then lulls.

But, in this respect, food conservation is different from almost everything connected with the war. Food conservation is a grind. It's a tortoise, not a hare.

You can't take a rest or a recess—while somebody else saves your food. You can't take a furlough while somebody else fills your place in the front line trench of the food fight.

Food wasted today is gone forever. Now, are you going to let up on food conservation simply because the fad of it has worn off? Are you going to quit simply because there aren't going to be any circus parades, any fireworks, any "stunts," or any "drives" to call it to your attention?

Or are you going to help keep it ALIVE in your neighborhood by talking about it and by boosting it? In addition to saving food, you can do a whole lot to make food help win the war by doing just that. Food conservation has got to be kept ALIVE. It has got to be kept a fad. Even the "Hooverizing" jokes do good.

Save food—and have fun about it. Take it seriously—but make it a lark at your dining-room table. Pump life into this old, tiresome proposition. That's the way the boys at the front put pep into the long, tiresome grind of fighting.

Don't stop saving food.

***** Days Pickings *****

A marriage license has been issued to Miss Norma Stevenson and Joseph Stevens, both of Carthage.

P. S. Hollowell, one of the most prominent farmers in Rush county, is critically ill at his home northeast of the city.

Private Charles L. Overstreet, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Overstreet of Dallas, Texas, who has been in the marine service at Mare Island, California, has been transferred to the United States naval Academy school in Annapolis, Maryland.

The county board of commissioners, together with the county attorney, John A. Tittsworth, were in Shelbyville today attending a joint meeting of the local board and the Shelby county board relative to the building of the Robert Wagoner bridge on the county line.

The War Mothers will give a penny supper Wednesday evening in the basement of the First Baptist church, serving from five to seven. The ladies cannot solicit everyone in the city, so if anyone cares to donate they are urged to call Mrs. O. E. Humes, 704 North Harrison street.

Word has been received that the Rev. C. L. Overstreet of El Paso, Texas, who has been the pastor there of the First Presbyterian church, has been transferred to Dallas, Texas, for the supervision of several of the southwestern states, in charge of the new era extension war work of the church. The Rev. and Mrs. Overstreet are well known in this city.

DEMANDS A DIVORCE AND $15,000 ALIMONY

Mrs. Myrtle Culbertson Brings Suit
in Circuit Court Against James
Ellis Culbertson

CLAIMS HE'S WORTH $35,000

Mrs. Myrtle Culbertson has filed suit in the circuit court against her husband, James Ellis Culbertson, demanding a divorce, money for the support and custody of their two children and $15,000 alimony. She alleges that Mr. Culbertson has threatened to kill himself, her and their children. She asks a restraining order to prevent him molesting her and disposing of his personal property, which is estimated to be worth $15,000. It is also claimed that he owns a farm of more than eighty acres worth $20,000.

Mrs. Culbertson says that her husband has pointed a shotgun at her and threatened to kill her and that he has procured carbolic acid with the expressed intention of killing himself. She declares in the complaint that he keeps a loaded gun and butcher knives under his bed. It is set forth that he struck his eldest daughter, Bethel, in the back a few months ago, injuring her so that she has been in poor health ever since. It is also alleged Culbertson has been intimate with the wife of a former farm hand of his, who now lives in Connorsville, and compelled his wife and children to attend the Fayette county fair in August 1917 with her. The plaintiff says her husband is subject to uncontrollable fits of anger and passion and tears around in his machine, never remaining at home 24 hours at time. They were married in 1899 and separated Saturday.

G. W. CLARK ASKS CLEMENCY

Case of Alleged Burglar Sentenced
Jan. 21 Before Pardon Board

George W. Clark, who, together with Charles Yeager, was convicted in the circuit court here January 21 last on a charge of second degree burglary, has appealed for clemency and his case will come before the state board of pardons at its regular session which will be held September 23 to 27. Clark was sentenced to the state reformatory for a term of two to fourteen years and Yeager was given a similar term in the state prison. They were convicted for breaking into Newsum's store at Carthage.

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Fourth Liberty Loan...

Campaign for Rush County will open Saturday, September 14th, 1918, and it is hoped to close it September 28th, 1918, if possible. No American doubts its success; no good American who can will fail to help.

Our Government has loaned our Allies $6,492,040.00. It will do more when needed.

Co-operation, Earnest Effort, and Patriotic Zeal will make Rush County go "over the top" in a short time.
